ST. ANNE'S JUBILEE A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Those who had the pleasure of attending the various functions connected with the silver jubilee anniversary of the building and consecration of St. Anne's Catholic church in Blaimore on Wednesday, July 10th, 1935, will long remember it as one of the most brilliant and inspiring events in the history of what was frequently termed by His Excellency Archbishop P. J. Monahan as
"The Really Beautiful Town of Blaimore."

The setting for the main event at the base of a green-clad mountain adjoining the Blaimore athletic stadium was a picture to be admired. Nature seemed to have blessed Blaimore with such a site that would be suitable for this important event.
The spirit of co-operation from all classes and creeds of the people seemed to add greatly to the pleasantness as well as the success of the programme here.

Clergy in attendance included: Rt.
Rev. P. J. Monahan, D.D., Bishop of Calgary (now Archbishop of Regina);
Rev. Fathers DeLeatre, Fernie, B.C.; Cragg, Michel, B.C.; Killen, Rocky-ford; Beauregard and Lyons, Calgary; Mullivill, Black Diamond; Bow-len, High River; Madden and Mulloney, Lethbridge; Rioux and Davie, Cardston; Parbois and Simons, Pincher Creek; O'Dea, Cowley; Moreau, Bellevue; Dunbar, Coleman, and Harrington, Camrose, Alberta.

Headed by the West Canadian band, the procession of fully five hundred men, women and children left St. Anne's church by way of Eighth Avenue and Victoria Street to the athletic stadium, where a suitable canopy had been erected, from which homage may be paid to Almighty God for His guidance and prayers offered for continuance of His care for yet many years to come. The great procession was interspersed by Sisters of Mercy, some twenty of whom from various parts of the Calgary diocese were in attendance. Following up at the ex-

CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL

Under the auspices of Central United church, a vacation Bible school will be held from July 10th to 26th.
The morning sessions will commence at 9 o'clock. The school is under the direction of Miss Dorothy Moore, who will be assisted by an able staff of workers.

Extreme rear was His Excellency the Archbishop, clad in full pontifical robes, supported by a clerical staff representative of various missions from Calgary to the south.

Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by the archbishop, during which an eloquent sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Killen, who for a short period some years ago had charge of the mission work here. The service was assisted by the band and the junior and senior choirs of St. Anne's slightly augmented by vocalists from neighboring towns. His Excellency also briefly addressed this gathering.

Repairing to the Columbus hall, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, a banquet was surveyed by members of the Catholic Women's League. Following the banquet, the programme opened, with a few remarks by the chairman, Mr.
J. E. Gillis, who introduced the various speakers, including His Excellency the Archbishop, Mr. F. O. Mc-Kenna, of Pincher Creek; J. V. Mc-Dougall, R. W. H. Pinkney, of Blaimore;
Mr. Raoul Green, of Calgary;
Rev. Father Harrington, Rev. Father
DeLeatre and others.

Responding to the toast to "Our Country," Mr. McKenna waxed eloquent, his discourse being branded as one of the ablest orations ever heard here.

Speaking in a general way, His Excellency drew attention to the various stupas in Canada and the world today that are determined to undermine religion, and urged his hearers to be on their guard and ready to fight against this atheistic propaganda. He spoke of the beauties of Blaimore and this section of the Crow's Nest Pass, of the great work that had been done by the young and so-called pioneer missionaries from the days of the first settlers in the district to what is being accomplished today, how that with the growth of population Catholicism has been established wherever settlements had risen to serve their spiritual needs. He had become so attached to the people of his diocese in the four years of his charge that he felt grieved at this time to have to leave for what was considered a larger and more important field. He would ever remember the pleasant associations it had been his to enjoy throughout the Calgary diocese.

The present programme opened with the singing of "O Canada," and concluded with "God Save The King." The West Canadian band was present and rendered appropriate and pleasing selections during the banquet hour. George Kerr and Johnnie Pietraszko rendered violin selections, with piano accompaniment by Miss Chardon.

The history of St. Anne's church is quite fully compiled in a booklet which was placed on sale during the week. This souvenir will find a place in the homes of Catholics and others in the district and with former friends abroad.

St. Anne's parish was established in the year 1910 by the Rev. Father Felix Lajlat, who today has charge of a parish in the province of Quebec.
Many reminiscences of Father Lajlat's mission work and experiences were related during the banquet hour by Messrs. R. W. H. Pinkney and Raoul Green.

It is recalled that in 1905 the first Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was celebrated in Blaimore in the home of a Catholic by His Lordship Bishop Legal, who came up from Pincher Creek, accompanied by the late

MEDICINE HAT LADY IN CHINA HAS CLOSE CALL

According to word received from Changteh, China, on July the 9th, Nurse E. J. Bannan, hospital nurse, narrowly escaped drowning as she tried to navigate a raft laden with corpses along the edge of the city wall as floods continued to sweep the country. A portion of the wall crumbled and the raft was capsized in the avalanche of water which poured through the gap.

Nurse Bannan is the wife of an English church missionary. Two of her brothers reside in Medicine Hat, and another, Samuel G. Bannan, is soldier here.

She visited Lethbridge during a furlough from the mission fields a few years ago.

Father Lacombe. An interesting event occurred just prior to the celebrating of the first Mass in Blaimore.
Bishop Legal and Father Lacombe had left Pincher Creek in a hurry, and on the morning on which the sacrifice of the Mass was to be said, it was discovered that a very necessary requisite in its celebration had been left behind in Pincher Creek, the holy chalice. However, the Catholic in whose house the Mass was to be celebrated, very graciously offered a silver mug, gilded on the inside, to take the place of the missing chalice. Bishop Legal consecrated the silver mug, and the mass was celebrated. But as the mug could not now be used for any other purpose, Bishop Legal took it with him to St. Albert and had the memorable event inscribed on it and returned to the donor as a precious and sacred keepsake. Unfortunately the donor has moved away from the Pass and his name cannot be remembered, so neither he nor the precious mug can be located.

Father Lajlat, who resided in Frank, left the Pass in 1911 after establishing the Blaimore parish in 1910 with only about a dozen Catholic families living here. He was succeeded by Rev. Father Sammut, who became the first resident parish priest. He in turn was succeeded by Fathers Ronald Beaton and DeWilde.

In 1917 the parish came under the charge of the Rev. Father P. J. N.
Cosman. By this time the members of the parish had increased considerably, and it was found that the little building purchased in 1910 and used as a place of worship would no longer accommodate the growing number of parishioners. In 1919, due to the zeal and untiring efforts of Rev.
Father Cosman, the church building that serves the Catholics today was constructed.

The present parish priest took charge in September, 1926, succeeding Rev. Father Cosman, and under his guidance the parish developed still further. He caused a council of The Catholic Women's League to be formed in Blaimore, enrolled many male members into the League of the Sacred Heart.

He purchased for the parish in 1928 the old Blaimore opera house, renovated it and named it "Columbus Hall," to be used as a parish hall. Here the women of the parish hold their annual bazaars, and St.
Anne's Dramatic Society hold their annual entertainments.

Word was received from Father Cosman, now stationed at Strathmore, that he regretted being unable to attend the anniversary functions.
The final programme of the day was a concert staged by local talent in the Columbus hall at night.

The Enterprise joins in the general expressions of congratulations and well wishes to Father Harrington and the congregation of St. Anne's.

Mrs. Thomas Clark arrived from Vancouver last week and on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Ennis.

GARDEN PARTY TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY NEXT

Remember the Garden Party to be held on the lawn at the home of Mrs.
and Mrs. L. P. Robert, west Blaimore, on Wednesday afternoon next, under auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the United church. This has always been an event anxiously looked forward to and well patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert have this year again loaned their beautiful lawn for this purpose, and it is ideally appointed for such.

A friend has drafted the following verse to be used in this connection:
"A Garden Party is our aim,

If the weather man plays the game.
Our party booth is known to all—
Cakes and cookies, large and small.
A Post Office filled right to the rafters.
A parcel to all who pay the quarter.
A fish pond and a pantry shop—
At each one you will want to stop.
So, come and eat and come to play
At our Annual Party next Wednesday."

C.N.R. HAVE BIRTHDAY

Montreal, Que.—Railways, like kings, commoners and quintuplets, have their birthdays and state occasions, and thus July 1st noted the thirty-fifth anniversary of the first running of the "International Limited" train of the Canadian National Railways, which has been in continuous daily operation between Montreal and Chicago since July 1, 1900, and is still going strong.

During the 35 years the "International Limited" has travelled 21,715, 760 miles, carrying approximately 2,600,000 passengers on its 25,556 trips. Over part of the route there are severe winter conditions of frost and snow which render steaming difficult, and yet, despite this annual handicap, the train has a record of 82.3 per cent "on-time" performance during the entire period.

Hard-surfacing of the highway between Elko and Fernie will shortly commence.

American Government To Bury Many Millions In Gold
United States government gold valued at many million dollars will be buried in the middle of Fort Knox, Ky., where 1,300 soldiers are on duty.

Much gold now stored in New York and Philadelphia will be transferred to Fort Knox. Not long ago nearly $3,000,000,000 were sent from San Francisco to Denver. Rocky Mountains and the Appalachians thus will guard the precious bullion from any possible enemy invasion or mobs.

The government's gold stocks total more than $9,000,000,000.

Ran With The Hounds

Fox Used Great Cunning In Making Its Escape

During a meet of the Boyle Harrier's Hunt in northern Ireland, a fox broke cover and started across country, with the hounds following in full cry. Shortly afterward the huntsman noticed what he thought was a strange dog running in the midst of the pack, but on getting closer he saw it was a fox. The intruder kept with the hounds, which intent on hunting another fox, took no notice of it. When the hunt was passing close to a brush-covered hill the "visitor" suddenly bolted into the brush and disappeared.

Dies In Poverty

Here Was Rewarded With Medals, But Could Not Get Work
They planned medals on Salvatore Bracco, Italian-born American seaman, a few years ago for his heroism in two rescues on the high seas.

When the S.S. President Harding saved the crew of the stricken freighter Ignazio Florio in 1925, Bracco was the first into the lifeboat which took 38 men from the freighter just as it sank. He got medals from five cities and a scroll from Benito Mussolini for that. Greater recognition came in 1929 when the S.S. America rescued the crew of the ship Florida off the Virginia Capes. First to volunteer for the lifeboat crew, Bracco directed the rescue work. Former Mayor James J. Walker gave him a medal for his heroism when his ship rescued New York. Later he received the congressional medal of honor, two more medals from Italy and six from American cities.

Seaman Bracco died in New Jersey recently in poverty. Ill with heart trouble, Bracco had been supporting his wife and son on a weekly relief grant of $7.50. "Those who planned medals on me and shook my hand wouldn't give me a job," he complained bitterly to his son a week before he died.

Cavell Grave Neglected

Resting Place Of Martyred War Nurse Is Uncared For

Complaints that the grave of Edith Cavell, the martyred World War nurse, is neglected have aroused indignation in England. Visitors to Norwich declare that evidently no care is given it. Nurse Cavell was born at Swardeston, a village four miles from Norwich, and lies buried in Life's Green, close to Norwich Cathedral. Some time ago the public was aroused to protest against the scant attention paid to her last resting place, which many last from all parts come on pilgrimage to see. The responsible authorities, apparently the Dean and Chapter, took the matter in hand, but to-day fresh criticism is made of the condition of the grave. One observer declared that it is covered with rough gravel and seemingly had been a playground of dogs. On it lay the remains of a wreath of artificial poppies and a few bedraggled daffodils.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

SOUR CHERRY JELLY

3½ cups (1½ lbs.) juice
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin
To prepare juice, stem and crush about three pounds fully ripe cherries. Do not pit. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. (Use stronger cherry flavor, add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before pouring.) Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire, and at once add bottled fruit, pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ¼ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 10 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

STRAWBERRY FROSTING

2½ cups confectioners' sugar
¾ cup sweetened condensed milk
¾ cup fresh strawberry pulp
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
Stir sifted confectioners' sugar into sweetened condensed milk. Force enough strawberries through coarse sieve to make ¾ cup pulp; add with lemon juice to first mixture. Beat until smooth and creamy. Spread on cake. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of loaf cake, top of 2 (9-inch) layers or about 1½ dozen cup cakes.

New Powerful Ray

Nazi newspapers reported a new radio-active micro-wave had been discovered in Germany. Scientists declared the new ray was more powerful than the Hertzian rays and would be of great value in signalling the approach of ships. A ship coming into contact with the ray-beam would immediately signal its location through a loudspeaker installed on the vessel sending out the waves, it was said.

National Youth Administration

United States—Offering American Youth A Chance In The World
President Roosevelt has established a "national youth administration" to meet what he called a "great national need" by offering unemployed youth of the United States "their chance in school, their turn as apprentices and their opportunity for jobs."

The new agency will be under the work relief program. The president set aside $50,000,000 to be used in providing work, apprenticeships in private industry, in offering high school and college training for those between 16 and 25, and in giving relief to youths.

The new undertaking was put under the direction of Miss Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury, and Aubrey Williams, assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator.

Mr. Roosevelt, in announcing the plan to aid an estimated 500,000 of young men and girls, said:

"I have determined we shall do something for the nation's unemployed youth because we can ill afford to lose the skill and energy of these young men and women."

An average payment of $15 a month for youths on work relief was fixed; $6 a month would be given to those going to high school and $15 a month to youths in college.

Leprosy Cure

Report, French Scientists Have Obtained A Positive Culture

Two French scientists have obtained a positive culture of the leprosy bacillus for the first time in medical history, it was announced before the French Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Albert Vaudremer, distinguished bacteriologist, aided by a young woman assistant, Mlle. Brun, presented the results of seven years' research to the academy. Their experiment resulted, for the first time since 1871, when the Norwegian scientist Armauer Hansen isolated the leprosy bacillus, in a positive culture of the deadly organism.

Dr. Vaudremer said the bacillus as cultivated in his experiments was agglutinated by serum taken from leprosy sufferers and that this serum destroyed within 24 hours the leprosy bacillus.

The Canadian Nickel

Finance Minister Would Like To Change The Design

If there weren't so many slot machines in Canada, Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes would change the design and size of the Canadian nickel. Pressed by Hon. W. D. Euler (Lib. North Waterloo) in the house to make the nickels smaller, Mr. Rhodes said they were in his opinion "one of the most hideous coins we have."

Because of the number of slot machines, telephones, for instance, he could not change the design and he hoped in the future it could be done, managing the coins "more in keeping with artistic taste."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
JULY 14

NAOMI
(A Woman Of Faith And Courage)

Golden text: "A woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised." Proverbs 31:30.

Devotional reading: Proverbs 31:10-20.
Lesson: Book of Ruth.

Explanations And Comments

Elimelech and Naomi Leave Bethlehem for Moab, Ruth 1:1-5. To escape a famine in the days of the Judges, an ancient Hebrew family of Bethlehem, Elimelech and his wife Naomi with their two sons, left Canaan for the land of Moab, a land unloved by the Hebrews because it had blocked the passage of their forefathers through the desert and had allied itself with Midian against Israel.

The sons each married a daughter of Moab. Ten years passed and Naomi and her daughters-in-law, Orpah and Ruth, were left alone, the father and sons having found their graves in the alien soil.

The Parting of Naomi and Orpah, Ruth 1:6-14. Naomi determined to return to her home in Bethlehem and her daughters accompanied her on short distance on her way. Farewells seldom take place in the house in the East. When Naomi could have said she had gone far enough to show fitting respect for her, she stopped to dismiss them. "Go," she bade, "return each of you to her mother's home."

Naomi said: "Jehovah deal kindly with you as ye have dealt with the dead and with me." "Jehovah grant you that ye may find rest, each of you, in the house of her husband," Naomi continued, "but two girls I wish to wish to you people," but Naomi continued to insist upon their return, reminding them that she had no sons who could marry them. It was the law that the next of kin in the family of a man's childrenless man should marry his widow. Again they wept aloud (Moffatt's translation) and Naomi sadly turned back. Ruth clung to Naomi.

Naomi and Ruth Arrive in Bethlehem, Ruth 1:19-22. The women of Bethlehem began to talk amiss and yet pityingly, it would seem, when they saw Naomi after ten years' absence. It was a severe ordeal for Naomi, and for the time being she became bitter, and accused God of dealing bitterly with her, for the contrast of her present condition with that of her happy past at Bethlehem was too great. She had gone away with a husband and sons, and now had returned without them. When the women exclaimed, "Is this Naomi?" she answered, "Call me Naomi (Winnipeg, Pleasant), call me Mara (Bitter)." But sweetness and peace came again to Naomi.

Abandon System

Ontario Is To Discontinue Relief Work On Roads

Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario minister of lands and forests and northern development, announced at Port Arthur at a banquet in celebration of the opening of the Great Lakes section of the Trans-Canada Highway that the Ontario government will, in future, let contracts for its road building.

The relief camp system, under which jobs worked at highway construction, was at least twice as expensive as the method proposed by the government, he said. A mile of road could be built by a contractor, for half the cost of the relief camp system.

Under the camp system, Mr. Heenan said, with a $5 a month allowance for the men, a section of road in northwestern Ontario had cost $5,000. A contractor would cost for half that amount and would have paid fair wages.

Widely-Known Physician

Dr. McCrae, Brother Of Canadian Poet, Dies In Philadelphia

Dr. Thomas McCrae, widely-known physician and author of medical works, died recently in Philadelphia, weakened from an operation. He was 64 years of age.

Native of Ontario, Dr. McCrae was a brother of the Canadian poet, John McCrae, a lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian Army Corps. He was an associate of Sir William Osler. For 23 years, Dr. McCrae had been professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. In 1927 he was physician to J. Ramsay MacDonald, when the then prime minister of England visited the United States.

To Fit The Crime

In England, says the Toronto Star, motorists convicted of reckless driving have their driving licenses suspended for two years. In Czechoslovakia the policeman does not arrest a speedster and cause him to be fined. He stops his car, lets the air out of all four tires so that the speedster has to carry a white and pump his tires full again.

All men are born free and equal, but most of them get married.

Little Journeys In Science

ATOMS

(By Gordon H. Grant, M.A.)

Many years ago John Dalton, an English schoolmaster, gave to science a very important theory concerning the structure of matter. This theory, which is known as the atomic theory of matter, assumes that every chemical element, such as oxygen, iron, or gold, is made up of small indivisible particles called atoms; that the atoms of different chemical elements have different weights; but those of a particular element are alike and constant in weight; and that chemical compounds, such as common salt and water, are formed by the chemical union of the atoms of different elements. Thus, an atom of sodium combines with an atom of chlorine to form the smallest particle, known as the molecule, of table salt, while two atoms of hydrogen combine with one atom of oxygen to form a molecule of water.

Recent studies of the properties of matter force scientists to assume the existence of particles still more minute than atoms; so Dalton's idea of the atom has been changed. What the modern scientist believes is that the atom is composed of tiny particles of positive and negative electricity, respectively known as electrons and protons. Although a proton weighs as much as 1845 electrons, its positive charge is exactly equal to the electron's negative charge. Each pulls as much as the other.

There are 92 elements and hence there are 92 kinds of atoms. Hydrogen atoms, containing one proton and one electron, are the "lightest." Uranium atoms are the "heaviest," having 238 protons, and 238 electrons. In all atoms, the electrons are alike and interchangeable. Unlike the electrons used in all sorts of buildings. It is believed that the electrons are revolving around the protons, which are located in the center of the nucleus, much as the earth and the other planets revolve around the sun.

Under normal conditions the diameter of a hydrogen atom is estimated to be about a hundred millionth of a centimetre (2.54 centimetres equal 1 inch), which appears to be about twice the usual distance of its electron from the nucleus. The size of an electron is not known for accuracy but it is a very small fraction of the size of the whole atom. The nucleus, or central sun, appears to be still smaller. Thus an atom is largely a vacuum. It has been calculated that if the electron of a hydrogen atom were represented by a pea, its two planetary electrons could be represented by a marble, a quarter of a mile away. The electron of the hydrogen atom travels around its nucleus very rapidly, going, under normal conditions, at about four hundred miles per second. This means that it takes less than seven billion times of one millionth of a second. These facts show that electrons and atoms are far too small for our comprehension; they belong to the world of the almost infinitely little. It is a miracle, for it is these tiny particles of matter, like the heavenly bodies, are never at rest.

The information concerning the structure of atoms has been obtained by the wonderful methods known as the spectroscopic, by X-rays, and from a study of such elements as radium, which are continually breaking down into other elements.

Secret Of Magic Sword

Weapon Of Serbian Heroes Was Made Of Nickel Steel

The old Serbian "heroes" of the Dark Ages, according to legend, were armed with "magic swords" which cut through their enemies' armor. Now a minor prospector, examining ancient workings in old Serbia, believes he has discovered the secret of those "magic" weapons. They were made, not of iron, but of nickel steel. In an old working he came on a piece of metal which is probably the oldest piece of special steel in existence. In vain he tried to bore a hole in it. Finally he sent it to Vienna to be examined. Here again difficulty was experienced in piercing it and analysis showed that it was nickel steel of peculiar hardness. The circumstances under which this piece of steel was found suggest that it is at least 1,000 years old—that is, it was in existence 900 years before nickel steel was rediscovered.

Actor Stops The Show

A comic singer wearing a hat of the Mussolini type caused a theatre to be closed by the police in the port of Braila, Rumania. His act contained an ironical song at the expense of Signor Mussolini, which was considered a success—until the Italian consul happened by. The following day the police closed the doors of the theatre.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all his head, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. They are met at the railway station by Columbine Nelson, who in turn introduces Mark and Matthew Adams, two neighbors of Aunt Columbine, and the party set out for Pine Ridge, which village causes disquiet to the girl's dilapidated appearance and general lack of poverty.

No Go On The Story

"It's gorgeous, isn't it?" breathed Nancy, truly impressed. "I'm sure I'm going to love this room."

Cousin Columbine smiled.

"It's our best, and I'm glad to see that you appreciate it. Jack will be next to you with only a door between. I sleep downstairs, and as I stated in my letter, Aurora goes home at night. Victor Tubbs is an invalid, or thinks he is, which amounts to the same thing, and his wife has supported him for years; a state of affairs that satisfies them both, though it makes me furious. However, it's none of my business, and if Aurora wants to work her fingers to the bone for such a lady specimen, why worry, as Mark Adam would say? Now I'll leave you in peace. No doubt you'll prefer to unpack alone though Aurora was itching to see your wardrobe, and if she had, not so much as a safety pin would have escaped her eyes, and the account would have been spread from one end of Pine Ridge to the other before she slept tonight."

The old lady moved toward the door, then stopped to add: "If you need a lamp, the matches are in that box on the wall. Supper's at six sharp, so Aurora can get home to feed her precious Victor. There's water in the pitcher; but you may prefer in the bathroom if you prefer."

She was gone at last, leaving Nancy rather breathless with intrusion. Jack had departed by his own quarters, and the girl stood quizzically, still looking about curiously. She had meant the view, of course, when she told Cousin Columbine that she loved the room. Now, sitting down suddenly on a straight, uncomfortable "modern" walnut chair, she wondered how it was possible to get so many ugly things into one place.

The bed! Towering black walnut, ornately carved. It was cold comfort to remember that her grandfather had had one almost as hideous at Edgemoor. A bureau to match, even a washstand, behind which hung a square of linen to protect the wall paper. Hadn't she heard "splashes" in the dark ages when people used such things?

Nancy arose to regard this curious antique on which, embroidered in red cotton, was an infant splashing happily in a wash bowl, with the words, "Our Darling," below it. Horrors! Must she live with that monstrous baby for months and months? Must she have to carry that upholstered in flowered carpet—she even brushed her teeth into it?

The girl could have wept for her own titled dressing room; then remembered that she was no longer anyway. She turned slowly to observe a marble-topped table between the windows, and a pair of rocking chairs upholstered in flowered carpet—she even brushed her teeth into it? The girl could have wept for her own titled dressing room; then remembered that she was no longer anyway. She turned slowly to observe a marble-topped table between the windows, and a pair of rocking chairs upholstered in flowered carpet—she even brushed her teeth into it?

Nancy's eyes lifted to the wall paper, a nondescript, faded tan, which, she decided, "might be worse." But the pictures (only two, thank goodness) were simply terrible: an oil painting of a deformed looking kitten playing with a ball of yarn, and a steel engraving of General Grant. Could anything be more depressing.

As if to get away from all these objects, Nancy moved to a window, half sick at thought of the long weeks ahead. Night was descending, and even the Peak, looking now against a gloomy sky, looked austere and forbidding. All the excitement of their arrival—the elation she had felt during the wonderful ride in Mark Adam's silver—her interest in this new part of her own country—even the sense of humor, were lost in an attack of overwhelming homesickness.

Aunt Louise had been right, she told herself. They shouldn't have come so far away. This terrible room! What would the girls at home think if they could see that wasteland? And the pin-cushion. Why it was bigger than a boudoir pillow! And what in the world was she going to do with herself when the duties that Cousin Columbine imposed were finished? There would be nothing—absolutely no way to kill time. This thought, to pleasure-loving Nancy Nelson was appalling—not to be endured. Her unhappy eyes, resting on Pike's Peak, saw only a closet filled with dancing frocks, and a white fur wrap that she had never worn. She had to wink to keep the tears out of her eyes as she vowed audibly:

"I'll write to-night and tell Dad everything. Didn't he say that homesickness might as well be fatal? He'll understand. He'll send for me if he has to borrow money for the ticket. Jack will call me a slacker, but who cares? Jack can't stand it here. I'd almost rather die than stay. What can there possibly be to interest a girl like me in a dreadful, ramshackle, down-at-the-heels settlement like Pine Ridge, Colorado?"

Later Nancy was to realize that as she stood there, oblivious to everything save self-pity, she hadn't known what sort of girl she was.

CHAPTER VIII.

"There's nothing," observed Jack from the door of his north-east bedroom. "like good, thick, slithering sleep. Remember that, Sis."

It was eleven at night, and Nancy, attired in a wadded dressing gown of crimson silk, turned from the bureau to ask coldly: "May I inquire whose morale you have in mind?" Her brother smiled, as he investigated the patent rocking chair.

"I'm no moron, Nancy. I knew when I found you staring out of the window in the dusk, that you were planning your escape. That's why I opened the door into that frigid hall the moment of boiling steak was in the air and I felt sure I would revive that fainting spirit—stiffen the backbone—stir your pioneer blood."

"Hush up," warned Nancy. "Our voices will disturb Cousin Columbine, and she's admitted sitting up to an unheard-of hour. Say!" the girl came nearer, whispering: "Did you ever see anything more—more soul destroying than this room?"

Jack grinned, gesturing with a thumb toward his own quarters.

"You should see mine! Not even a view, my dear; and it lacks this 'modern' walnut furniture." The boy's eyes shone with merriment; and though she wouldn't have believed such a proceeding possible a few hours earlier, Nancy laughed a little. She didn't realize that after a leave of absence her sense of humor was returning, but she knew that something made her feel better.

"It was a wonderful supper, wasn't it?" she murmured.

"Trust you to appreciate it! And what swell china! I wish Aunt Lou could see it."

"It came from Denver in 18—well, eighteen—something—or other, anyway. There's a complete dinner set—imagine choosing that awful green-brown pattern! And Cousin Columbine's so proud of it, too. How on earth does she remember the date that everything was purchased?"

Jack shook his head, remarking in muffled tones: "She's a wonder, isn't she? Who else would have thought of cooking up that letter as a—what did she call it? Character test?"

"You've got an awful lot to live up to, Sis. If you take me, 'Hop into bed, I'll open the windows. And don't forget that breakfast's at seven sharp."

Sleep did not come quickly to Nancy that night. She lay there under a patchwork quilt (whose weight she never Anat. Just later was "not so crushing"), and thought about the evening that had just passed. There must be some truth in Jack's statement regarding the slithering sleep. What else could account for her more cheerful frame of mind? For Nancy had been ravenous despite that slice of chocolate cake—the ugly, green-brown china, and a lamp in the centre of the table that was homely enough to ruin almost any body's appetite.

There was no doubt that Aurora could cook a steak; and with unexpected tact, Jack had done most of the talking, leaving his sister free to get herself in hand after what she now called her "brain storm."

And when Aurora had gone, Jack carried that awful lamp into the sitting room, and Cousin Columbine remarked casually, though her eyes twinkled: "I suppose you're thinking me an outrageous humbug—sit down, my dear, while I confess."

This confession with its illuminating detours into the past, had kept Columbine Nelson talking until long after her customary bedtime.

"I'm going clear back to the beginning," she explained, "so you'll understand, if possible, just why I posed as that tottering old relic, too tall to stay alone at night. The truth is, there's nothing to be afraid of here, and if there were I wouldn't turn a hair. To one who can remember the Indian troubles of 1868, and as a child has hidden for hours in fear of hostile savages, well—you can readily see why an ordinary pioneer would be tame in comparison."

She looked up, smiling; while Jack, eyes popping out of his head, exclaimed: "You really lived through things like that?"

"Why not?" asked the old lady calmly. "This was nothing but wilderness when I was born. As you've heard tell, my first home was a covered wagon which, naturally, I don't remember. Do remember it, however, that I was a stone fireplace in one corner, however; and dimly recall the furniture made from poles and rough-hewn lumber. 'It was home, and nothing to be ashamed of because no one else nearby had anything better.'"

"But wasn't it frightfully cold?" said Nancy. "A dirt floor, I mean?"

"I suppose it must have been—at this altitude; but Mother took care that I shouldn't suffer, of course. I can remember being tucked up on the bed with quilts all round me, watching the snow swirl against a tiny window, and loving it—I was so warm and cosy! It was my mother who suffered. Men can stand hardships better than women; and even in those days Father seemed always to be—well, my dear, to express it as you would, he seemed to be having the time of his young life."

"Did that cabin stand where this house does now?" Jack questioned.

"Very nearly. It was a bleak spot then. Except for the big pine beside the barn, Father planted every tree himself after he built the mansion."

"But why, when there was plenty of land to choose from, didn't you build back in the woods where it was sheltered?"

"Fear of two things," responded Aunt Columbine. "First, and I think the last, the savages were to at-

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR 30 YEARS

Woman's Long Search for a Remedy

The trouble with most remedies for constipation, as this woman found, is that they give only temporary relief. Having at last found a permanent corrective, she writes to tell us about it:

Some upwards of 30 years I was a victim of acute constipation. I tried practically everything that it was possible to try. I admit it was a chronic case, and every new remedy I tried helped for a day or two—after that I was just as bad as ever. Three months ago I took my first taste of Kruschen Salts, and every morning since, and every morning so long as I live, my first duty upon rising is to take my Kruschen. I honestly feel a different woman. My bowels act to the clock, and my friends remark how well I am looking. My only regret is that I didn't try Kruschen years ago."—(Mrs.) A. M.

Kruschen Salts is a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your system is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.

Jack up, we at least had a chance to see them approaching if we were in the open. And a forest fire's a terrible thing in the wilderness, Jack. I recall when I was a tiny girl, watching one at night with my courageous little mother. We were all alone, Father having gone to California Gulch in search of gold. Looking back on those times, I don't see how she endured his absences, even though there were other cabins not far away. That fire was a terrifying thing, my dear. It must have been miles off, but looked almost near enough to touch. The growth was very thick and tall just there, and the flames seemed to leap from tree to tree, and as they reached the top, shooting up into the air, far up, higher than you'd believe possible, before subsiding. I have never forgotten it."

Nancy shivered; and Cousin Columbine continued: "So you see why we built in this bare place."

"And did your father find the gold?" Jack questioned.

"Not then. Not ever to any great amount. It was Leadville silver which built this mansion; but poor Mother never saw it. She died in 1874, when I was fifteen. A wonderful woman, my dear. She had the true pioneer spirit, but not the body to stand up under the pioneer hardships. She was only thirty-five when she left us to join my little brother who died in infancy."

THE DREAMER SINGS

Give me a star in the tree tops
And a willow tree by the wall,
Then you of the world can have your
With its splendor and pride and all!

Ever the star has charmed me
As in depths of space it has swung,
And the whispering leaves have brought me peace
With the little songs they have sung.

Echoes have reached me faintly
From the world which has I stand, I have heard of its subterfuge and pains,
Of its mazes of hate and doubt.

Give me a star for promise
And a tree to sing me to rest,
Then you who love toil and bitter

Historic Rock Blasted

30-Foot Lip Overhanging Gorge Slips Away

With flashes of flame and a rumbling that introduced a new note into the age-old symphony of the Niagara cataract, 2,000 tons of rock were hurled into the gorge at the foot of the falls at Niagara Falls, July 1st, as two explosions shattered part of Table Rock, famed look-out point at the brink of the falls.

While a holiday crowd estimated at 40,000 persons viewed the brief spectacle from United States and Canadian sides of the river, 1,000 tons were blown into the gorge. Scenic beauty and contour of the falls was unaffected.

Preparations for the blast have gone on for six months. Eighty-five holes, each 15 feet deep, were drilled into the lip which had a length of 150 feet and a thickness of 15 feet. Into each were placed three sticks of dynamite and five pounds of black powder which the holes had been drilled by compressed air.

The ledge, estimated by parks commission officials to contain more than 5,000 tons of rock, was blasted because a 30-foot lip overhanging the gorge—the spot which came to be called Honeycomb Point, after visits of scores of honeymooners—was declared unsafe due to erosion.

Great Aid To Buyers

Newspaper Advertising Helps People Who Purchase By Phone

Modern life is much different today from what it was a decade ago. To-day, a great deal of buying is done over the telephone.

This, in turn, means that opportunities for purchases advantageous to the buyers are now almost completely centered in newspaper advertising.

The modern housewife knows what she wants, knows by brand name, and orders in that manner—because advertising has taught her how she should do it and why it is profitable for her to do so.

Imagine ordering from an unknown grocer "some breakfast food," "some bacon," "some coffee," "some bread"—and so on, as in the olden days before advertising became the powerful force it is today!

WHITE MAN ON TRIAL

If he were brought to trial on the charge of having made a mess of his job of handling North America, the white man would probably be found guilty in any court.

There were millions of buffalo here when he came, and they are gone. Their wonderful robes are no more. The passenger pigeons used to fly in millions and shut off the sun—they are no more. What amazing pigeon pies they provided for the pioneers! The wild ducks were so numerous that everybody had all they wanted of them. They used to come in great numbers at the season of the year when they were most needed. The red deer used to be everywhere, but man has made it a fugitive and scarce.

When our ancestors came to Toronto they used to catch Atlantic salmon in the Humber river—these sea fish used to come up here from the sea to spawn, but man has put an end to that.

There was a time when the white fish of Lake Ontario were so plentiful that every settler far and near had barrels and barrels of them salted away for the winter. They were so plentiful that everybody was careful about risking his net in the waters lest it should break from the weight of the catch.

There was a time when two men with a cargo canoe laden with merchandise could leave the mouth of the Humber river, push their way with some portages to Holland Landing, get into Lake Simcoe and on into the Georgian Bay and the Great Lakes. Where is that lane of travel now?

There used to be immense white pine forests in what was called the Queen's Bush and elsewhere, and where are those forests now? The whole region where Camp Borden now stands—a place of shifting sands—was once a magnificent pinery. The white man has destroyed it entirely and has done nothing to replace it.

Fifty years ago an elderly nun complained to the writer that the hardest labor of his youth had been done in Simcoe county when he had to clear land for potatoes and found how difficult it was to cut down black walnut trees and burn them in log heaps—they were so slow to burn. The white man did this sort of things to the North America which nature had made and which the Indian had respected.

All these are but small items in the indictment against the white man. The worst thing he did remains to be mentioned. He dried up the waters of the province.

There is not a stream in Ontario in this month of June that is more than half the size it was fifty years ago. There is not, we venture to say, a stream in the province that is more than one-quarter of its volume of one hundred years ago.

The white man is sponging up and doing away with the moisture which nature gives the province.

The forests have been destroyed, the swamps have been drained, the benevolent scheme of nature has been frustrated. Man, bald-headed and stupid, will soon stand amid the wreckage he has wrought. The desert of Sahara was the work of man. Whole parts of the western states are now being blown away by the winds, the same thing to a lesser extent is occurring on the western prairies of Canada. We shall have it yet in Ontario unless we do but

About a year ago people of Blairmore were told that this so-called boulevard of ours was solemnly dedicated as "Tim Buck's Boulevard" by one once-revered A. E. Smith, of Toronto. Now, it has been remarked that local Social Credit folk should have taken advantage of the visit here of William Aberhart, many times bigger man, to have him break a bottle and christen the band which turned out to honor him at Bellevue the "Social Credit Band." Well, anyhow, should Social Credit sweep this province as it promises to do, that boulevard should be given a more honorable title or else be swept off the map.

The political situation in Rocky Mountain constituency is as foggy as ever. G. Cruickshank, Independent, states he will run against Donald J. McNeill, recently nominated Liberal candidate. The Conservatives will not nominate a candidate, and some have expressed their intention of supporting the Liberal candidate. If these candidates both contest the seat, the result will likely be an easy victory for the Social Credit or Communist candidates. This constituency, under such representation, will still be out in the cold, instead of being represented on one of the major political parties. With four running, considerable campaign energy will be spent to no purpose, as far as party supporters are concerned. The only nominating convention so far reported is that of the Liberal party. —Coleman Journal.

TOURISTS SPENT $5,000,000 HERE DURING PAST YEAR

Motor tourists spent approximately $5,000,000 in this province last year, based upon the number of car registrations at the national parks in Alberta. That is the amount which visitors, lured by the scenic beauties of this province, hunting, fishing, or other drawing cards, put into circulation here.

Obviously business-benefitted producers had the demand for their products strengthened to that extent, and recovery was helped through the improved purchasing power thus created.

Of the sum spent by motor tourists, a large proportion would go to the farmers, as it would be at the farm where much of the buying would take place, and that would be cash business.

All of which goes to prove what has been urged by officers of the Alberta Motor Association from time to time, that hard surfaced highways will bring thousands more motor tourists to Alberta each season and bigger markets for primary products.

If five million dollars were spent here last year, when the country still was in the grip of a depression, how much more would be expended with highways hard surfaced so that motorists would be enabled to travel to any scenic spot in the province without risking adverse weather conditions?

The improved all-weather highway will bring new business to the farmer's door, to the retailer, and all others catering to this trade. This is a time when political candidates should be pledged to support highway improvements which will result in this province experiencing a tourist tide that will signalize forever the arrival of better times.

The biggest fish of the season is reported by E. G. Kew, of Blairmore, who on Sunday last landed it from the South Fork Canyon, near the mouth of Beaver Creek. It was 30 inches in length, weighed five pounds and nine ounces dressed, and required the assistance of Art Fraser to herd it out of the water.

YOU BUY ROADS, TOO!

The accompanying chart shows how the price of gasoline to the retailer has decreased and the gasoline tax has increased since 1924. In 1924 the average price to the retailer of all gasoline sold in Canada was 26.6 cents per gallon. Since 1924, the price has fallen almost continuously until in 1933 and 1934 it stood at the unprecedented low of 18.8 cents—a decrease of 29 per cent. But as the price of gasoline fell, the tax on gasoline rose. The data for this graph are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

WHEN you buy gasoline, you also buy roads over which to drive your car.

Approximately one-fifth to one-third of the price you pay goes directly to your Provincial Government in road tax.

Twelve years ago there was no gasoline tax. Today the tax ranges from six to eight cents per gallon. And yet the cost of gasoline to you is no more because during those twelve years the price of gasoline has been steadily reduced.

LET DOWN BARS FOR TOURIST COMING FROM U.S.

From year to year, in season and out, the Alberta Motor Association has made representations to the government to go out of its way to make it easier for United States tourists to visit Canada.

Members of the association have pointed to the importance of extending every possible consideration to the visitor to this country. Whenever it appeared that a regulation was working a hardship, it was taken up by the association and representations were made to the proper authorities.

This work evidently has borne fruit, because it was announced recently at Ottawa that the regulations are being modified, thus making it more convenient for visitors entering Alberta and other parts of the dominion.

One important change is that the visiting tourist may remain in Canada for six months on a single permit. Formerly, it was necessary to apply for an extension at the end of two months, and also post a bond. Such requirements are abolished under the new regulations.

Another step is to make the customs and immigration officers allies of the newly organized Canadian travel bureau, which is spending some $200,000 this year to induce large numbers from south of the international border to visit the Dominion during 1936. That this campaign is proving a success is demonstrated by the greatly increased number of inquiries as to Alberta's scenic attractions.

Tea at its Best "SALATA" TEA

Be Careful!

On Dominion Day in a riot at Regina, precipitated by relief camp strikers when police attempted the arrest of their leaders, one man was killed, in the neighborhood of one hundred persons more or less seriously injured, and damage done to property estimated at around $25,000. The news of this happening filled the papers, newspaper's "extras" flooded the streets, reports were telegraphed all over the continent, and cables carried the news to Great Britain and foreign lands. For a time it was almost the sole topic of conversation, and called forth questionings and discussions in the House of Commons. The Federal Government promised a searching investigation.

The Ontario Government is publishing a series of advertisements in the newspapers of that province. One such advertisement appearing almost simultaneously with the Regina riot says: "In Ontario, during 1934, there were nearly 10,000 automobile accidents, 512 people were killed, 8,990 people were injured, a considerable increase over 1933." No estimate was given of the property damage resulting from these 10,000 accidents, but it must have reached a total well up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, if not into the millions.

Here are two sets of figures—two pictures if you will. Just consider them for a moment.

In the one instance, one man was killed and approximately 100 persons injured, most of them only slightly. Yet the whole Dominion is shocked, parliament is aroused, the law has been ignored, flouted, a crime committed. Immediate government action is demanded by practically all the people.

In the other instance, over five hundred times as many people were killed, thousands were injured, many of whom were maimed and disabled for life, property damage was enormous. But only a passing mention in the local newspapers at the time of each accident, and possibly some casual local comment, but, generally speaking, the public displays little concern and accepts the situation with amiable complacency.

Is it not time that the Canadian people shed their indifference in regard to these day by day highway tragedies, and bestir themselves to put an end to such wholesale killing? The Ontario Government says in its advertisement that "Ontario must start 'thinking' safety; that it must be evident to all thinking people that 'this must stop'."

But how is it to be stopped? It is quite correct to say that people must "think" safety; but they must put their thinking into actual practice and "act" safely. But, people will say, in the Regina incident the law was broken. But, so, too, was the law broken in the vast majority of these automobile accidents. Our provincial statute books, and our municipal by-laws, teem with laws and regulations governing the operation of automobiles. Constituted authority has done its part in endeavoring to provide for safety, and to the best of its ability it endeavors to enforce these laws and regulations, but it is an enormous task over hundreds of thousands of miles of roads and highways.

There is only one way to stop manslaughter on the highways, and that is for the individual motorists to stop it—stop it by strictly obeying the laws which have been enacted for their protection and for the protection of others. It is disregard of the law that is the root cause of the trouble.

Motorists must discipline themselves, not be disciplined by the law. It is pointed out, for example, that there were more than 800 bicycle riders killed or injured in Ontario last year. Bicyclists, especially children, are often careless. This simply means that drivers of motor vehicles must be "twice" as careful. They must remember that they are in the heavier vehicle. At stop streets and intersections they must "stop". Instead of taking so many things for granted, they must make sure that brakes, tires, lights are effective; otherwise serious trouble may lie ahead.

Owing to economic conditions of recent years, many worn out and poorly equipped cars are being used. Drivers of these should be exceptionally careful. New makes of cars are more powerful, speedier, and the drivers of these are under a greater responsibility than ever before. They must remember that the old cars are not so speedy, and govern themselves accordingly when passing such cars. These are only a few "musts"; there are many others that might be mentioned.

Some motorists resent all these laws and regulations. They deliberately ignore "stop" signs, and take all manner of chances while knowing their action is contrary to law. But with the mounting toll of deaths and accidents there is bound to be more law, not less, greater restrictions instead of fewer of them. Public opinion will demand and insist on this. So if motorists desire to live, and to live so much law, they must refrain from being a law unto themselves; rather, they must discipline themselves and not act as if they were above all law.

On the other hand, pedestrians and others than motorists using the highways must recognize that motorists have certain rights which ought to be respected. It is largely through the payment of license fees and gas taxes by motorists that our modern highways have been created and are maintained for the use of all. And accidents are by no means uncommon where the motorist is entirely blameless.

Canadians are reputed to be a law-abiding people. A riot is an exceptional occurrence in this country. Law must be respected and obeyed. But in view of the awful death and accident toll on our highways, there should be—must be—not merely observance of the letter of the law, but the whole spirit of it. In a word, the most important law of all for motorists, pedestrians, and others, is "Be Careful". Being careful, practising safety first, will result in the observance of all law.

Makes Ideal Insulator

Unexpected virtues have been discovered in the lowly seaweed. When tightly packed it forms an ideal insulating material, keeping out cold, noise, water, or even fire. Scientists' tests prove that a mat of seaweed half an inch thick is more effective than a brick wall twelve inches thick. The seaweed has besides only one-fourth the weight of ordinary insulating material.

Must Have General Knowledge

Recruits To Metropolitan Police Have Tricky Test

Somewhere should revise that song, one line of which runs "If you want to know the time ask a policeman!" These days it does not go nearly far enough in London. For instance—do you want to know the advantages of the hire purchase system to the buyer? Or to the seller? If you are at all curious about it—ask a policeman.

Or do you want to know why a steel ship floats? Ask a policeman. If in an unduly enquiring mood you can ask the same constable why a fire burns more rapidly if a newspaper is placed in front of it, why a steam engine has a fly-wheel; why tinny goods remain in good condition for a considerable time; why lead is commonly used for water pipes in houses.

Or being of a more sporting than scientific frame of mind, ask the same constable to describe to you what is meant by a knock-out, even on the field of a sturdy catching a crab or body-line bowling.

The new policeman will be able to answer you with ease on each or all of these posers, and a good many others beside.

The reason? Well, these were some of the questions given to recruits to the Metropolitan force, and they were only allowed an hour in which to answer them.

There were more, even more tricky, but the above is a good sample.

Astronomer Views Sun Spots

These Spectacles Resemble Large Whirlpools Of Flame

Whirlpools of flame, large enough to swallow up the earth, are marching across the face of the sun. Clouds stayed away from the sun long enough recently to give H. S. McCung, Regina optometrist and amateur astronomer, and visitors a glimpse of the sun spots.

The spots at present consist of a group of three or four near one edge of the sun's face and a single large one near the opposite side of the 850,000-mile wide disk.

Sun spots, similar to cyclonic disturbances in the earth's atmosphere, are whirlpools or whirlwinds in the brilliant outer envelopes of the sun, exposing the darker inner portion.

About two years ago a period of sun spot activity was entered and the activity will last for about another nine years.

Some persons attribute disturbed weather conditions on the earth to the sun spots. They are believed to produce, also, spectacular displays of northern lights.

Study Water Resources

Engineers Now Engaged In Work Over Wide Area

Geological survey of the southern drought stricken of Saskatchewan is under way.

Recently, 80 senior students, drawn from the engineering department of the Saskatchewan University, started work.

Travelling in 16 up-to-date motor trucks, the survey parties will investigate water resources of approximately 100,000 square miles in southern Saskatchewan and southeastern Alberta.

The survey party has been organized into 20 sub-parties, each comprising an engineering graduate and two senior students.

The work is being conducted under the direction of Dr. B. H. Mackay, Dominion geologist, and the area extends from the Manitoba boundary west to near Lethbridge, and from the international boundary north to near Saskatoon.

Empty House Costly

Many a Heathy, one of the most famous mansions of Halifax, England, and the house in which the King and Queen resided in 1912, has been standing empty since the city bought it for $250,000, five and one-half years ago. It has been estimated that, with the cost of upkeep plus the interest on the purchase price, Manor Heath is costing Halifax $300 every month.

Millionaires Leaving

Heavy Taxation Causes Of Canada Losing Two Wealthy Citizens

The Toronto Telegram says "Canada is to lose two of her wealthiest citizens, and, incidentally with their departure the federal government's annual income tax will be reduced by several million dollars."

"The recent report that William H. Wright, with an annual income of about $2,000,000, is definitely leaving Canada, is now followed by one that Harry Oakes, who possesses an income of nearly $3,000,000 a year, may also leave the country to reside permanently in England," says the Telegram.

"The income tax paid by these two men alone to the federal government amounts to nearly $3,000,000 each year," according to the Telegram. "While Mr. Wright, vice-president of Lake Shore Mines and vice-president of Wright-Hargreaves Mines, has definitely announced his intention to leave Canada, the Telegram adds 'color is lent to the reported exodus of Mr. Oakes by his recent resignation from the presidency of Lake Shore Mines.'"

According to the Telegram, Mr. Oakes has bought a house in London, England, and it is rumored he will take up residence in the Channel Islands. Mr. Wright leaves in September for the Channel Islands and may visit Bermuda before he decides where he will make his new home, says the Telegram.

Rust Resisting Wheat

Scientists Have Advanced Far Towards Resisting The Goal

Hope for development of rust resistant winter wheat was focused by Prof. T. A. Kieselbach of the University of Nebraska upon the state's present stem rust scourge. Spring wheat scientists, he pointed out, already have advanced far toward this goal. The noted agronomist said the 1935 fungus threat spurred a generation-old search for immune varieties of grain. He is experimenting now with a special strain that may greatly reduce the susceptibility of winter wheat to stem rust.

He pointed to the planting of 3,000,000 acres of "Ceres" spring wheat, developed largely by Dean C. B. Waldron of the North Dakota Agricultural College, and said it would not suffer half as much from stem rust as other varieties.

Hot Weather Story

Toronto Man Tells Weird Yarn About A Fish

Five Toronto fishermen declare this to be a true fish story.

When Walter Sampson, Toronto, landed a large bass at Lindsay, it fell on a rock, freeing itself of the hook. Then it reared up and started dancing straight at him.

The bewildered fisherman picked up a heavy stone to stop the fantastic progress of his catch, when he noted the fish was being borne swiftly along by a four-foot water snake.

The snake glided to the water's edge where it released the fish, which swam quickly away.

With three passengers F. M. Kuksanov, veteran Soviet flyer, recently took off from Moscow, Russia, on a flight scheduled to end at Wrangel Island, and to cover en route the polar and fur-trading stations of the Main Administration of the Northern Sea Route. The flight covered nearly 11,000 miles. The object of the trip, a test for both plane and pilot, was to ascertain the advisability of carrying passengers on such a long flight, and to check up on the work of the polar stations and their preparations for the coming navigation season.

British Mystery Air Craft

Claimed To Be The World's Heaviest Armed Air Fighter

The new British mystery aeroplane "Falvey Fantoms," claimed to be the heaviest armed air fighter in the world, will be brought from its closely-guarded hangars at Hendon soon to roar over the heads of experts in a display for the Society of British Air Craft constructors.

The ship carries four machine guns, one on each lower wing and two atop the fuselage, and also a dual firing gun which throws 20-millimeter shells.

The magazine of this gun carries 60 shells, fired through the propeller hub instead of through synchronized spaces of the whirling blades.

This new machine, expected to reach a speed of 250 miles per hour, has been secretly constructed at a British factory to compete in the international fighting plane competition to be held in Belgium in July.

Australian School Children To Write Essays On The Dominion

Australian school children will be encouraged to learn about Canada.

Hon. R. B. Hanson, minister of trade and commerce, explained money voted would be used to conduct an essay competition in Australia among secondary school pupils. A prize of a trip to Canada would be the reward of the pupil who wrote the best essay on Canada.

A similar competition had been conducted in Canada by Australia. Mr. Hanson said the winning pupil was now enjoying her trip to the southern dominion.

Human Slate

Skin Of Toronto Boy Registers Writing Like A Blackboard

Toronto has a human slate. He is John Darch, 17, whose skin responds to a stick in the same way a blackboard responds to chalk.

Take a stick and write on John, and what is written takes visible shape in the form of a welt that can be felt when a finger is passed over it. How long the writing remains depends on the pressure applied.

THE MATTER OF INHERENT RIGHTS OF THE SENATE

Ottawa.—With important amendments, the senate gave third reading to the measure setting up a Dominion trade and inland navigation commission and to bills amending the Natural Products Marketing Act, Criminal Code and the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act.

Pushing through first and second reading, the legislation to establish a system of long term mortgage credit for fishermen, the upper house referred it to the banking and commerce committee.

The senate joined with the commons in a formal address to their excellencies expressing regret at termination of the governor-general's tenure.

Inherent rights and prerogatives of the senate to amend legislation, with the possible exception of money bills, whether or not a matter of government policy may be involved, were asserted by the senate. The declaration was made on adoption of a new amendment to the radio broadcasting bill which corrects the limitation clauses of amending legislation since the act was passed in 1932. Statements of the senate leaders referred to an undelivered message from the commons which stated the lower house "insisted upon the bill as it left this house being enacted."

Upon being satisfied as to the actual intention of the other house, such being presumably the intention of the government, Senator Meighen stated, the senate found no exception to the course it had to determine.

It was his duty in the circumstances, Senator Meighen stated, "to say that the power and prerogative of the senate of amendment or rejection of any measure which comes to it from the other house, with the exception possibly on the raising of taxes—is ample and complete and is not at all affected by the fact that the measure embodies a policy of the House of Commons or the Government."

Twenty-two amendments by the banking and commerce committee to the bill establishing the trade commission were proposed to make the measure practicable in its operation and less vulnerable from constitutional attack, Senator Meighen said. One of the changes was to provide that here an order to desist was made by the commission in unfair practice proceedings, disobedience of the order would be followed by a recommendation to the attorney-general for prosecution.

The amendment to the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, withdrawing application of the act to British Columbia, provided the bill would not become law until proclaimed by the governor-in-council.

"This gives the government of British Columbia the opportunity to determine what course they will pursue," Senator Meighen remarked in reference to the provincial government's challenge of the validity of the act.

"Perhaps the Dominion government will change its course," Senator Dandurand said.

"The Dominion government is not given any chance in the bill to change its course and does not ask for any chance to change its course," Senator Meighen returned.

Frown On Seances

Bishop Of London Warns People Against Spiritualism

London.—The bishop of London, Rt. Rev. A. F. Winnington Ingram, issued an order forbidding any church building in his diocese to be used for seances and warned people against the "peril" of getting in touch with spirits through spiritualism. Writing in his diocesan leaflet, he urged them to give up "this unauthorized attempt to communicate with the other world" and described their efforts as "very dangerous, dishonoring to the dead and waste of time for the living."

A New Racket

Ottawa.—The new "racket" of signing books or sheets and contributing $1.00 or similar amounts in anticipation of getting higher returns if additional persons sign, is declared an offence against the criminal code under an amendment adopted by the senate banking and commerce committee. Any operator of such a scheme may be fined up to a maximum of $500 under the amendment.

Plenty Of Moisture

Conditions Throughout Canada Generally Favorable

Ottawa.—Moisture conditions throughout Canada are generally favorable to growing crops, says the telegraphic crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Dry areas are practically confined to Vancouver Island, parts of the lower mainland of British Columbia, districts in southern Alberta and parts of southwestern and west-central Saskatchewan.

Crops are late throughout Canada and except where moisture is limited, warm weather is needed to promote growth, says the report.

The report continues: "In prairie provinces grain crops have made good progress during the past two weeks. Drought areas are limited. The most favorable conditions now exist in Alberta where drought is an important factor in the south."

"In British Columbia dry weather has reduced yields on Vancouver Island and in the lower mainland area. Conditions are satisfactory in interior points with fruit crops developing rapidly."

"Manitoba: Rainy weather continues in Manitoba and during the last half of the week drenching rains were received over the western portion of the province."

"Grain crops are about one week late and growth is heavy. "Saskatchewan: Rainfall during the past week favored the eastern and northern sections of the province. Recent warm weather has stimulated growth and crops in most parts of the province have made good progress."

"Moisture conditions are generally satisfactory but rains are still needed in southwestern and west-central Saskatchewan. Grasshoppers are still hatching but outbreaks are very patchy and have been effectively controlled. Out-worms and wire-worms are active in some areas. Root rot is also reported. Summer-fallow is about half completed. Pastures are in good condition."

Bonus To Be Paid

Farmers Shipping Milk To Cheese Factories Will Profit

Ottawa.—For the month of July, a bonus of 14 cents a pound will be paid all farmers who ship milk to cheese factories, Minister of Agriculture Robert Weir announced in the House of Commons.

The money will come from a fund of $1,000,000 which the House considered as a means of equalizing dairy prices.

Primary reason for the cheese bonus was prevent farmers switching production from cheese to butter and forcing down prices to world figures.

"First bonuses will be paid in July, the minister said, through the cheese factories. It would be at least 14 cents a pound and might run to 14 cents."

Japanese Steamer Sinks

Collides With Freighter And Over 100 Persons Drowned

Osaka, Japan.—The collision of a small Japanese steamer with a freighter on the pitch dark, fog-bound Japanese inland sea claimed 104 lives, a checkup by shipping officials disclosed.

Crowded with holiday passengers the steamer Midori Maru rammed with the freighter Senzan Maru and sank almost immediately.

Rescue vessels, including the Zenzan Maru, picked up 91 of the 166 passengers of the Midori Maru and 56 members of the crew of 85 in the storm-tossed sea. Eleven bodies were recovered, including those of three women and an infant.

Wheat Marketings Lower

Ottawa.—Wheat marketings in the prairie provinces for the week ended June 21 amounted to 1,704,250 bushels, a decrease of 997,237 bushels compared with the previous week, and a decline of 947,005 bushels against the same week last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

Senator May Resign

Will Leave 17th Vacant Seat In Upper House

Ottawa.—While the resignation had not been received by the Dominion government or the speaker of the Senate, it is understood Senator John McLean (Cons. South) intends to resign his seat in the Upper House. Illness has prevented the 88-year-old Maritime Senator, oldest member in the upper chamber, from attending in the Senate last session of this year.

When it does occur, the resignation of Senator McLean will create the 17th vacancy in the upper chamber. Hon. J. A. Macdonald, member of the Bennett cabinet for Prince Edward Island, is mentioned prominently as successor of Senator McLean.

MASS BUYING PROBE EXPENSES ARE SUBMITTED

Ottawa.—The mass buying commission cost the Dominion treasury about $475,000. Hon. R. B. Hanson, minister of trade and commerce, told the House of Commons, but he believed "a very large sum of money" had been turned into the finance department from tax-dodgers brought to light during the probe.

The minister said he was not sure of the tax collections because they did not come under his department. He had been informed however, they were substantial.

William Golding (Lib., South Huron) protested against Norman Sommerville, of Toronto, commission counsel, being paid a daily fee of $150 and $15 expenses a day. He said Sommerville was paid for 196 days although the commission only sat 124. The remaining 72 days were occupied with Sommerville "schooling and prompting witnesses," consulting auditors and investigators, although "my own opinion," he said, "is those witnesses should have come without any interference whatever."

The South Huron member said one witness from the west, was on the stand only a few minutes one day although his bill was $149.50. An ordinary three-cent stamp represented the value of his evidence. Another witness cost over $150 to suggest farmers be stopped from selling produce on their farms and urging rail-grading for hogs.

The government had no control over fees, Mr. Hanson said. The commission paid its own accounts. When Sam Factor (Lib., Toronto South Centre) charged the accounts of auditing firms, particularly Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth, Gulliford and Nash, had not come before the commission, the minister promised to bring the account.

Heavy Rains In B.C.
Nelson, B.C.—Damage to highways and bridges has been fairly heavy in the Kootenay and Okanagan districts where rivers and creeks have been swollen to new flood levels by the heaviest rains in 10 years.

Witnesses cost over $150 to suggest farmers be stopped from selling produce on their farms and urging rail-grading for hogs. The government had no control over fees, Mr. Hanson said. The commission paid its own accounts. When Sam Factor (Lib., Toronto South Centre) charged the accounts of auditing firms, particularly Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth, Gulliford and Nash, had not come before the commission, the minister promised to bring the account.

Radio Commission
Ottawa.—The House of Commons retraced its steps to make a correction in the bill extending the life of the Canadian Radio Commission until March 31, 1936. Under an amendment to the bill made in the senate the whole radio act which established public ownership of radio would have terminated on that date.

New Wheat Board Bill

Farmer May Now Sell Under Two Plans

Ottawa.—The interpretation of the new wheat board bill as viewed by the special committee of the House which revamped it, was explained by John Vallance (Lib., South Battleford), one of the members of the committee.

"Let us take for example a minimum price of 70 cents a bushel," said Mr. Vallance. "The producer would have to decide whether he would turn over his wheat at that price to the board and be entitled to further payments if the board operated at profit or sell out entirely at a higher price to the grain trade."

"The minimum price would be fixed at the start of the crop year. Provision is made that the price would not be lowered during a crop year and there would be no object in increasing it during a crop year for the producers in any event would get the benefit of any higher price the wheat might bring."

"The act differs from the Argentine method in that under control in that country the board only buys when at the minimum price and pays no premium to producers if it makes a profit."

"The new bill is fairly acceptable to Liberal members of the committee with the important exception that they wanted the board appointed for one year only with provision for extending it from year to year if thought necessary. The measure on the other hand makes the board permanent unless eliminated by act of parliament."

Radio Commission
Ottawa.—The House of Commons retraced its steps to make a correction in the bill extending the life of the Canadian Radio Commission until March 31, 1936. Under an amendment to the bill made in the senate the whole radio act which established public ownership of radio would have terminated on that date.

New Tariff Adjustment

B.C. Premier Sees Necessity Of Revision Of B.N.A. Act

Prince Rupert, B.C.—Necessity of a revision of the British North America Act as it affects the relations of the provinces with the Dominion was stressed by Premier T. D. Pattullo in a luncheon address.

The necessity of such revision was being recognized with unanimity all over Canada, the premier said, even in Ontario and Quebec and it was important the people of this province should realize it.

Tariff adjustment to permit of fairer treatment for British Columbia in relation to the east and a re-definition of sources of revenue and taxation for Dominion, provinces and municipalities to eliminate overlapping and as far as possible the same land were also essential Premier Pattullo declared.

Air Liner Reported Lost

Believed To Have Fallen Into Channel Off Isle of Wight

Portsmouth, Eng.—A destroyer and Royal Air Force flying boats searched in vain for a British air liner reported to have fallen into the channel off the Isle of Wight after sending out SOS calls. No trace of the wreckage was found but a patch of oil on the surface about 10 miles from shore gave a clue to the probable fate of the two persons aboard, Pilot Captain Ogden, 30, and a passenger named Grainger. The machine was flying to England from the Channel Islands.

HEAVY DAMAGE FROM FLOODS AND STORMS IN WEST

Winnipeg.—A two-year-old boy was given up for dead as western Canada counted damage of thousands of dollars from the worst storms and floods in 25 years.

In western Manitoba, eastern Saskatchewan, the Peace River area of north Alberta, and in British Columbia rain-swollen streams overflowed their banks, inundating farm lands, sweeping away bridges and driving settlers and farmers from their homes.

Five bridges already have been wrecked in the Kootenay and Okanagan districts of the coast province. The Mission river at Kelowna has broken all flood records, officials said, while at Penticton two bridges have been carried away. The police building at Kamloops is surrounded by water.

Slave Lake, Alberta, residents abandoned their homes to seek refuge of tents on higher ground. Every stream and river in the Peace River country was reported on the rampage, with no indication of a let-up in the flood situation.

A serious situation existed in northwestern Manitoba following a week-end of storms that brought 8 1/2 inches of rain to one point. Thousands of acres of farm land were hauled out in the Grandview district, with damage up to 80 per cent. Hundreds of poultry were drowned, hayracks, granaries and small barns carried away. Gates and hail torn off roofing and flooded stores.

At Fortkenton, police withdrew from a three-day search for two-year-old Arthur Godsworthy, who celebrated his second birthday recently. The boy disappeared then, and police considered it impossible he could have survived three nights of torrential rain and mosquitoes.

Though the rain had ceased, floods in western Manitoba showed no signs of subsiding. Highways were washed out and farm lands flooded over a wide area. A Canadian National Railway train was derailed into a ditch by flood-covered rails, four coaches were reported up behind it. No one was reported injured.

A gale of cyclonic proportions wrecked the farm buildings of Alex. Dykun, at Gilbert Plains, where the train was derailed. His house and contents were strewn for a mile from where the dwelling was situated. Dykun was injured when part of a wall toppled upon him.

Employees at the Dauphin, Man., power house worked to maintain a crippled electric light and power service, pumps fighting to keep rising flood waters from the machinery. The dam at the town's source of water supply was swept away.

But on the brighter side of the flood picture was the lush green verdure over the entire western Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan.

EFFORTS MADE TO PREVENT WAR IN ETHIOPIA

London.—Great Britain is making strenuous efforts to stop war between Italy and Ethiopia. British ministers are reported to be unanimous in a decision to uphold the League of Nations but divided upon a resort to sanctions should Italy declare war.

"The existence of the league is at stake," says the Daily Herald. "If the league stands by, it is dead."

"The league," comments the Daily Express, "must either abandon Abyssinia to her fate or try to stop Italy by economic or military pressure."

"If she does the first the league will be broken; if she applies pressure the system of collective security, which means a collaboration of Britain, Italy and Russia to keep Germany in her place—will crash."

From both sides of the commons members battered the government in proposed cessation of a strip of British Somaliland to promote the peace between Italy and Ethiopia.

Anthony Eden, British minister for League of Nations affairs, made a "tentative proposal" of cessation during his conversations with Benito Mussolini at Rome. In return for the concession, the British government was to receive a corridor to the sea through British Somaliland.

The tone of the questions which were mostly from normal supporters of the government, were highly critical. They were turned on Mussolini's proposal to give Italy the colonies, and Anthony Eden alike.

Mr. Eden said, "it is the policy of His Majesty's government to keep the house fully informed of such matters. The tentative proposal concerned a small strip of British Somaliland. This represented an offer to reach a settlement of a situation which His Majesty's government regards with grave concern."

"It was put forward solely in order to find out from Mussolini whether if His Majesty's government made a proposal to these lines it was likely to commend itself to the Italian government as a constructive contribution toward a settlement of the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia. The house will appreciate that it could not have published in advance its communications."

Had it been accepted it would have been communicated to the house and the government would have entered into consultation with the French government as a co-signatory to the 1916 treaty."

Postal Service Problem

Question Of Preference In Employment And Ex-Service Men

Ottawa.—For the good of the postal service in Canada, the time has come when the problem of giving ex-service men preference in employment must be looked at in a different light. J. B. Corley, district superintendent of postal services at Calgary, told the postmaster's convention in the Technical Collegiate auditorium.

In several recent appointments, he felt that the demand for preference to ex-service men had not given the post office the best man for the job.

He thought it was time that the ex-service men themselves and Ottawa looked at the veterans' problem in a different light. Most of the ex-service men were aging rapidly. There were many young persons whose futures must be considered, and efficiency of postal service must be maintained.

The convention adopted a motion urging the executive to promote meetings in each federal constituency so that local public opinion might be focused on problems the members faced. A part of the Calgary resolution provided the purpose of the meetings as the advancement of promotion system was deleted from the accepted resolution.
